CAMPUS SAFETY SERVICES: Get to know our team, we can't wait to meet you!

We managed to squeeze most of our Campus Safety Services (CSS) staff into this video, but soon we'll ALL be welcoming you on campus!

We respond to a number of needs. Please check out our website which contains a breakdown of some calls and responses handled by CSS.

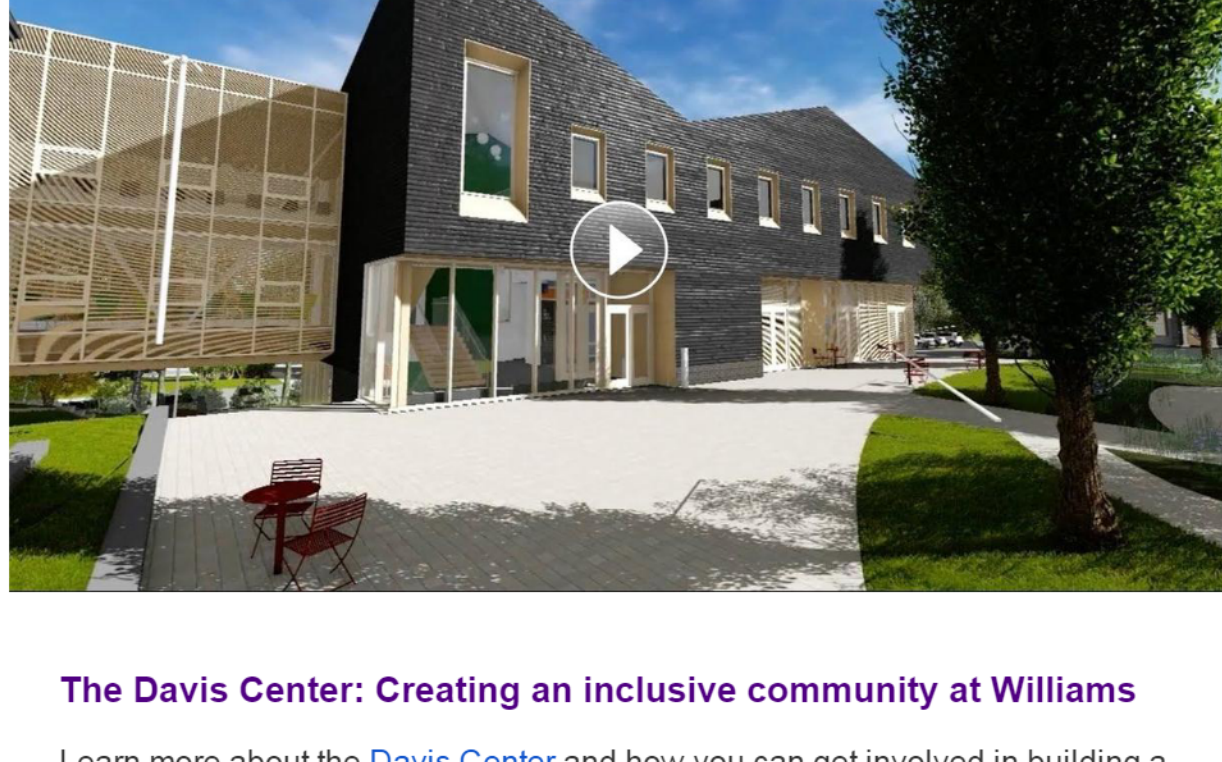

Like all things, this department and our website are works in progress. Our evolution depends on feedback. Please use this form to share observations about your direct experience with our staff or information we provide. You can also share concerns and questions 24/7 by calling the recorded dispatch line at 413 597- 4444, or dropping by Hopkins Hall basement.

In order to build a culture of safety that addresses the needs of a diverse community we invite you to discuss with us and each other how we are and feel safe, on campus and off.

Here's wishing you a smooth, happy arrival to campus.

INSTITUTIONAL DIVERSITY, EQUITY, and INCLUSION: THE DAVIS CENTER

The Davis Center: Creating an inclusive community at Williams

Learn more about the Davis Center and how you can get involved in building a stronger, authentically inclusive, supportive community at Williams. The DC team cannot wait for your arrival and the opportunity to get to know you. With a brand new center opening in Spring of 2024 (see above video) you'll likely find yourself exploring, hanging out, attending programs, learning, and finding community at the DC!

PEACe: PREVENTION, EDUCATION, and ADVOCACY in COMMUNITY

We're the PEACe Office—Prevention, Education, and Advocacy in Community—comprised of Intimate Violence Prevention and Response and Health Education!

The actual humans who make up the office are Meg Bossong '05, the Director, and Laini Sporbett, the Assistant Director for Health Education. We're also so excited to be welcoming a new Violence Prevention Coordinator in the fall who will be coming to Williams and settling in to this place right beside you!

You'll see lots of us during First Days:

- At the Partying Safer program that asks you to think about your goals for how substance use will or won't fit into your college experience and how we make a safer, more welcoming campus at social events
- At Speak About It, which will talk about consent, healthy relationships, how to be an active bystander, and how we care for each other in all kinds of relationships
- At Sexpo, a peer-led comprehensive sexuality education program you can stop by to learn about everything from identity to STI prevention
- Tabling all over the place with free giveaways of everything health from sunscreen to little first aid kits to menstrual supplies

You'll also see us throughout the year, hosting events, facilitating workshops with student organizations, athletic teams, and in entries. You can stop by our offices in Hopkins 407 for confidential information, conversations and support about sexual assault, relationship abuse, stalking, or concerns about your own or someone else's substance use.

We have lots of great opportunities for involvement through the many student organizations who work closely with our office: the Berkshire Doula Project, Masculinity, Accountability, and Sexual Consent (MASC), Peer Health, Period, the Rape and Sexual Assault Network (RASAN), the ProjectConnect peer-led discussion groups which are great for meeting new people, and our paid Peer Educator program which will be hiring new peer educators in the fall.

We and our partners at the Elizabeth Freeman Center are also available 24/7 for confidential crisis support related to intimate violence, and you can call us at 413-597-3000 to reach a confidential advocate.

You can find us on Instagram at @williamssapr and @williamskeephealthy on Instagram!

We are so excited to meet you and get to know you throughout the year!

Warmly,
Meg and Laini
